ARMENIAN RIOT CASE UP TODAY; PROTESTS MADE

Stephen Terjeian In East Cambridge Court This Morning To Answer Charge of Disturbing Public Assembly—Was Arrested In Robbins Town Hall Last Sunday—Protest Meeting Causes Sensation—Letters To Daily News Give Both Sides of Story

All eyes are centered on the East Cambridge district court-house this morning as hundreds of people whose interest has been aroused as a result of the riot which occurred in the Robbins town hall last Sunday afternoon await the outcome of the case against Stephen Terjeian, well-known Franklin St. barber who was arrested during the riot and charged with disturbing a public assembly. Terjeian appeared in court last Monday morning but his case was continued until today at which time it was expected several others would be summoned on charges of assault and battery.

In the meanwhile charges and countercharges have been hurled by the two opposing factions among the Armenians each placing the blame for the riot upon the other. Several Armenian citizens have come to the fore to champion the cause of the Dashnag party, the organization against which protest was made at the Sunday mass meeting. Town officials, the police department, Boston and local newspapers have been visited by sympathizers of the Dashnags and anti-Dashnags during the past week. Following are letters received by the Daily News. It is pointed out that the Dashnag party is not a secret organization as previously reported in newspapers. The letters follow:

Arlington Daily News, Arlington, Mass. Gentlemen:

There appeared in the Feb. 2nd 1934 issue of your paper the following statement:

"There will be a protest meeting at the Town Hall next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. to arouse public sentiment against the Dashnag Party secret organization which was responsible for the assassination of the Archbishop of the Armenian Apostolic Church."

This is a serious charge for an impartial American paper to make without any facts to back its positive assertion. In fairness to citizens of this community who are members or followers of the Dashnag Party we ask that space be given the following, to correct an unintentional injustice.

Baseball Club Dance To Take Place Monday

George H. Lowe, Jr., and Leonard Collins, members of the board of selectmen, both of whom have taken an active part in athletics all their lives will be the guest speakers at the dance of the Arlington Baseball Club in Robbins Memorial town hall next Monday evening.

Many novel features will surprise those attending this holiday event and good dance music is promised, the committee having secured Duke Charles' orchestra for the evening. This orchestra made a decided hit at the Arlington High Alumni minstrel show.

The proceeds of the dance will be used to buy uniforms for the baseball nine next season. This club by virtue of its showing last year is the town championship aggregation. It is possible that the club will become a member of the Greater Boston Twilight League next season. Local business men have taken an active interest in this group of young men and have given the organization unselfish support.

Atty. Albert E. Hughes, candidate for selectman, will also address the gathering. Herb Rawding, member of the Baseball Club, who is leaving with the Braves shortly will make a final appearance before Arlington admirers at the dance Monday. Practically every player of last year's team will be present at the dance as well as Horace Ford, former Braves player, who will be in the Baseball Club line-up this year.

LOCAL POLICE CHIEF OUTLINES PLAN TO CHECK GANGSTERS

Stirred by the recent killings and bank robbery in Needham, Police Chiefs throughout the State have turned their attention to ways and means of preventing a repetition of the occurrence in their communities.

Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock has worked out a plan, which has been accepted by the surrounding towns, that will insure quite a cutting off of avenues of escape should there arise a situation similar to that when the bank was held up in Needham.

Through this system police of each surrounding town and city, at a given signal, would make for a certain point to cut off possible escape. In the plan every avenue leading in or out of this town, Belmont, Woburn, Winchester, Medford, Somerville and Cambridge, is covered within a few minutes, the radio equipped car, where radio has been installed, playing an important part in the proposed plan. Every department has its avenue to look out for and the circulars will be placed where they can be easily seen in case of emergency. Chief Bullock had a conference with the bank officials here and advocated installation of tear gas bombs and guns in each bank building. The chief has issued instructions relative to the use of these weapons against holdup men and in all probability his scheme will be carried out here.

While no crime wave has hit here yet, Chief Bullock wants to be on the safe side and is going to equip each of the radio cars with a repeating rifle and train the men in the use of this weapon.

As a member of the board of directors of the Massachusetts Police Chiefs' Association, Chief Bullock has also worked on a plan providing State controlled police force for the 40 cities and towns in Metropolitan Boston.

The plan provides for the coordination of information, communication and identification of criminals while the various cities and towns retain home rule over their respective departments.

It was presented to the Association by the directors: Chiefs Archie Bullock, Charles M. Finn of Chelsea, John J. O'Brien of Belmont, and Arthur F. Bliss of Needham.

CIVIC COMMITTEE CANDIDATES ARE HONORED BY FRIENDS

Candidates of the Civic Committee were tendered a reception and banquet at Wyman's English Tavern last Wednesday evening by over one hundred and seventy friends. Simultaneously a hundred friends of the candidates in precinct two, East Arlington, headed by Arthur Murry tendered a second reception to them. At both events the candidates for this year, together with Selectmen Lowe and Collins, and John E. Mitchell of the Board of Public Works addressed the group.

Albert E. Hughes, candidate for selectman stressed among other things, that personal contact between worker and voter is the modern and most successful method of campaigning for victory. Edward T. Ryan, Civic Committee candidate for reelection to the Board of Public Works was the next speaker. Pointing out the difference in appropriations for his department between the year he was elected to office in 1931 and the years following where the appropriations were gradually cut down to the point where last year the appropriation was less than one-half of that of the years previous to his election. As a result of the lack of cooperation of the Finance Committee the necessary money to put men to work was not granted to the Board and work could not be provided, he stated.

Peter F. O'Neill candidate for Assessor spoke on the prime importance of going through with the campaign and not letting up until victory is actually attained. Candidates for School Committee Joseph J. Bevin explained the work required of a member of that Committee and pointed out some of the high points of insurrection on the part of those precinct members of the Committee seeking reelection.

The candidates for the office of Park Commissioners, Paul C. Griffin for the two year term and Joseph Cormier for the three year term, clarified the work of the Park Commissioners. Both men stressed lack of accomplishment by the present board and promised a Park System in reality and not merely a dream as it is at present. At the reception held in Precinct 2, East Arlington the candidates were immensely pleased with the organization spirit, and cooperation built up under the able direction of Arthur Murry.

The candidates extended their appreciation and thanks to those friends who honored them by the occasion. All were invited to go to the Ye Lantern next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to attend the regular weekly meeting of the Civic Campaign Committee.

Augustine D. Doyle acted as toastmaster for the occasion.

Wharton's Record Clean In The Past

Recently Robert Wharton became involved in difficulties with the Welfare Board of Arlington and as a result was convicted on charges of non-support.

While it is quite evident that the facts in the case necessitated the action brought against Mr. Wharton by the Welfare Board it is also evident that Mr. Wharton has had a clean record up to this time and is in no sense a vicious or undesirable character. It is not the desire of the News to represent Mr. Wharton as an undesirable member of society and we are certain that there is no desire on the part of anyone involved to see any injustice done in this case.

Arlington Merchants To Have Co-operative Sales Event Next Friday and Saturday—Will Honor Lincoln and Washington's Birthdays With Sev- eral Features—Business Men Meet To Discuss Plans — Enthusiasm Runs High As Sale Ap- proaches—Daily News To Carry Full Details

Next Friday and Saturday, medium through which the pub-lic may be aroused. Remember
February 16 and 17 have been set aside as Great Leaders' Days in Arlington. On these two days Arl-ington will see two of the best value-giving days in its history. Coming as they do near Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, these Great Leaders' Days will literally be bargain holidays. Leading stores in Arlington will have special values that will appeal to all on Great Leaders' Days. These bargains will be advertised in next Friday's Daily News.

Meeting at the invitation of Arthur J. Mansfield, Managing Editor of the Arlington Daily News, a group of local business men discussed plans for the Two Day Sales Event at a luncheon in Wyman's English Tavern Tuesday.

Emphasizing the need of bet-ter understanding and co-opera-tion among business men, Mr. Mansfield said: "Within the past few years, the Arlington Daily News has sponsored at least four co-operative sales events, these being Arlington Days, Opportunity Days, N. R. A. Days and President's Day. In most every case these sales have been profitable to local business men, while others failed to reap the harvest. However, they have led to a better understanding and collectively, we can do more to promote the general welfare of local business."

"Recently, I was approached by several merchants asking that we put on another collective bargain day. It was believed desirable that February 16 and 17 be set aside for such a sale. The Arlington Daily News feels that it's responsibility is to keep ever alive and alert to promote business for local firms. Therefore we're eager to sponsor this sales event. Your success and ours are bound together. With a circulation of 9,600 copies, we believe the Arl-ington Daily News is the proper medium through which the pub-lic may be aroused. Remember you don't make sales unless you have the contacts whether it's by radio or newspapers."

"In selecting Great Leaders' Days the name of this sales event was chosen to instill in the minds of the people that courage, vision, aggressive and perseverance of Washington and Lincoln's times are needed today more than ever before. It is another step in our expression of confidence in the National Recovery program."

Several of the business men present were then called upon to express their views and make suggestions in connection with this sales event. "February 16 and 17 is the ideal time for a special cooperative event," Manager O'Connell of W. T. Grant said. "The greatest need is the right attitude on the part of our busi-ness men. By offering low mar-chandise properly advertised and reasonably priced, Arlington businessmen should benefit from this sale. They should realize that the greatest competition today is between communities and not the merchants of the same town. The buying public seems to know more about Boston prices than we do. We must be able to show that we can compete with these prices and offer equally satisfac-tory service if we wish to keep business in Arlington. Let's pull together in this sales drive to make Arlington a better trading area," Mr. O'Connell said.

Cliff Miller, of the Arlington Buick Company, and William G. Tenney local Hudson-Essex dealer stated that not only are they planning to take an active part in the event but also expressed the opinion that local automobile dealers would gladly re-operate. ARMENIANS' PROTEST MEETING

Last Sunday's occurrence at the protest meeting at the Town Hall and several conferences during the week with groups representing both sides of the question involved prompted us to seek further information regarding this entire situation.

We were fortunate in being able to interview Dr. Arthur I. Andrews, former professor of diplomacy at the University of Prague, in Czechoslovakia. While this subject could require considerable study, from the facts we have at hand it would seem that the whole history of the Armenian nation shows that the Armenians are naturally strongly nationalistic. They have fought for centuries to keep their national culture and religion. The Armenian is an Armenian first, last and all the time. The nucleus of Armenia is now located on Soviet territory under the rule of Russia. The Armenians cannot possibly contend against Soviet rule under present conditions and under the circumstances their local government is naturally subject to the Soviet Communistic government that now exists.

The Armenians, it is supposed by many, were practically abandoned by the Allies during and at the end of the World War, making it practically impossible for them to do otherwise than accept the protection of Russia after thousands of them were massacred by the Turks.

This situation very apparently is a very delicate one as Armenia was by necessity under the Soviet control but it seems that Armenians, almost largely, are nationalistic in their thinking, rather than communistic. Under these circumstances the Armenians can not offend the Russian government, neither can we expect that the Armenian nationalistic feeling be permanently kept under.

While we have the utmost sympathy for the Armenians' tribulations we believe these matters should rest with them for settlement and we naturally expect them to obey American laws and maintain order in America otherwise they may lose some of the sympathy which other nations now have for them.

SHALL THE PEOPLE PAY?

A leading Boston newspaper yesterday branded the representatives who voted for the sales tax as "brazenly scornful of the hardships of a people trying to get on their economic feet."

Our first impulse is to agree with the editorial comment as expressed above but one must consider that the vast expenditures now being authorized by the government must be repaid in some manner.

If we as a people condone the action of our government in spending huge sums to aid recovery we must face the fact that additional revenue must be obtained from some source to pay the bills.

Representative Hollis M. Gott gives us a comprehensive outline of this entire matter in today's news which warrants the careful consideration of our readers.

To condemn the men who voted for the sales tax seems unwarranted when we consider that our leading statesmen are desperately trying to find ways and means to meet the obligations imposed upon our people by Federal and State governments.

OUR SAVINGS BANKS

That the traditional thrift of Massachusetts has not given way before the many social and industrial changes of the last ten or twenty years is indicated by the annual report of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, representing eighteen states, the Boston Herald says. It continues, "This little commonwealth has more than one-fifth of the total number of depositors, or 2,825,000 out of 13,413,000. The deposits themselves in our Massachusetts banks are also more than one-fifth, or $2,020,000,000 out of the $9,595,000,000. The relative decline in Massachusetts deposits during 1933 was much less than in the other states. Moreover, there was a gain here of $5,000,000 last month. The trend is still upward."

These figures speak creditably, not only for the residents, but for the mutual savings banks. Our excellent record would not be possible unless our savings banks were about as good as human ingenuity can make them. If a national banking system as sound as that of our mutual savings banks were devised, our bank failures would vanish.

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Recent endorsement of John B. Byrne and George Shirley for Park Commissioners should convince the most casual observer that the Citizens' Committee is endeavoring to make its slate as representative as possible of all of our citizens. Both of these gentlemen have good records and should add strength to the entire ticket.

Mr. Ryan of the Public Works Department has a long record of faithful service and has many friends who believe he can be relied upon to give everybody a square deal.

Local auto-dealers report the sale of new cars very encouraging. In some cases orders are coming in faster than deliveries can be made. Many new cars are enroute to Arlington dealers and will be on display during openhouse on Washington's birthday. See the "Great Leaders' Day" edition of the News on Friday, Feb. 16th for full particulars.

An enthusiastic meeting in the interest of "Great Leaders' Days" was held in Wyman's Tavern on Tuesday noon. Business men representing various lines gave their endorsement and pledged their cooperation to make these two great buying days for Arlington.

Mr. Taylor the new manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company began his new duties this week. He plans to make his residence in Arlington just as soon as possible.

Mr. O'Donnell, manager of Grant's is one of our wide awake merchants. He is always ready to boost and cooperate to promote better business. He expects to have some real values for the big days next week.

Government cannot always be right. It is therefore fitting and proper that the freedom of the press should be maintained at all costs. To expose graft, mismanagement and corruption in government is still one of the functions of the press.

The day of rank individualism may be gone but show us anything worthwhile that has been started without the vision and energy of some great personality behind it.

This week our printing department handled, among other things, three advertising programs of twenty, twelve and eight pages respectively. See us regarding your printing requirements.

The Arlington High School Dramatic Club presents, "The Merchant of Venice" tonight. Much expense, time and energy have been expended to make this a grand event. The young people deserve your encouragement. Get your ticket now.

The snow storm of last Sunday made excellent coasting, skiing and tobogganing. Lovers of winter sports were out in force on Sunday afternoon enjoying the bracing winter air.

The automobile industry is going forward with energy and confidence with the expectation that 1934 will be a big year. This activity will do much to stimulate other industries.

A program of faith, confidence and industry will hasten the return to prosperity and all business men have it in their power to bring about the desired result.

Call it what you will, the fact is that America is under dictatorship and the dictator is Roosevelt. We do not deny that much good has been accomplished but we adhere to our belief that dictatorship is often beneficial during emergencies but for the long pull government for, by and of the people is the safest form of government yet devised by man.

Warnings followed by quick court action is to be the order in enforcing N. R. A. Code compliance in the future. The Blue Eagle is sharpening its claws.

Now that we have wiped out a big national deficit and created a surplus will it be used to build a navy to compete with Japan?

The move to acquire the G. A. R. headquarters for the use of all veterans' organizations seems to have merit.

Notice has been given in the local papers for registration of voters. If you are not registered and possess the necessary qualifications to vote you should register before Feb. 21st.

The meeting will be strictly non-partisan. Each candidate will be given an equal amount of time for speaking.

The meeting will start at 8.1 sharp and will be preceded by one-half hour of community singing. During intermission a male quartet will offer selections.

The executive committee in charge of the meeting is Max T. Roberts, Clinton Grey, George B. Wilson, Elliot W. Lloyd, Floyd Battis and Arthur E. Robinson.

V. F. W. POST OPEN NIGHT HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 1775, will hold open night, Thursday evening, Feb. 15th at Junior High East on Foster st.

Twenty-sixth Division War Picture taken in France by official Y. D. Photographer, Major Cooper will be shown and there will be a lecture by Major Atkins. The High School band will play musical selections.

Hon. Patrick A. McCarran, United States Senator of Nevada; Henry V. O'Day, Adjutant; Francis X. Cotter, Legislative officer, will speak during the evening.

Accordian selections by well known artist. Song and musical selections.

Leaders in civil and business circles of the State and Town will join with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in conjunction with the third annual radio broadcast by Commander-in-Chief James VanZandt in the obligation of recruits about to join the V. F. W.

Spurred by the knowledge that now more than ever Veterans need cooperation of all ex-service men who are eligible, the post urges you to take this opportunity to join.

Veterans needed each other in War and now they need each other in peace. Give the Veteran your support and thus the V. F. W. will be strengthened.

The program's greatest appeal to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will lie in the formal obligation ceremony, as Commander-in-Chief James E. VanZandt stands before the microphone at Washington, D. C. and voices the solemn oath to recruits gathered together throughout the country.

A second highlight of the "Hello America" hour will be a vivid dramatic sketch based on historical fact, "Remember the Maine" written especially for the occasion by Willis Cooper, continuity editor of the National Broadcasting Co. The miniature drama will portray a graphic story of the sinking of the U. S. Battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana, Feb. 15th, 1934 will be the 36th anniversary of this disaster which took the lives of 262 American officers and men. The tragedy itself did not cause the Spanish-American War, but it was the last act of a drama which had been played for years in the Caribbean.

At the hour of 9:40 p. m. on the 15th of February each year, every member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars wherever he may be shall come to attention for one minute, paying due tribute to the memory of the heroes of '98 who made up the most colorful army in the history of the world. Post members and their friends are urged to be present as the Committee expects a large group of recruits to become members.

Jr. V. C. M. J. Geary, Chairman, assisted by an able committee has arranged the program.

All-Star Cast At The Capitol

James Dunn, Lillian Roth, Cliff Edwards, June Knight, Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Lillian Bond, Dorothy Lee and Lona Andre constitute the extraordinarily brilliant cast of "Take A Chance," the musical extravaganza which comes to the Capitol Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This musical picture can not be characterized as a back-stage romance. It runs the gamut from a carnival side-show, through a swanky New York gambling club, out to the homes of Long Island's millionaire society folk and back to Broadway. Five hit numbers have been concocted by a battery of well-known song-writers, and a chorus of fifty beautiful girls recruited from the "Follies" and the stage version of "Take A Chance," embellishes the tuneful picture.

The companion picture, "Aggie Appleby, Maker of Men" is a sizzling comedy drama starring Charles Farrell, Wynne Gibson, William Cargan and Zasu Pitts. As a product of the city's Bowery, Miss Gibson in the title role, has at her command all the things needed for learning to be tough, and she shows Charles Farrell how to go about it. But at the same time she shows her tough boyfriend, William Cargan, how to be a gentleman. She is truly a "Maker of Men."

"Counselor-at-Law" The greatest criminal lawyer who ever tried a case in the New York City Theatre is coming here at last.

Dynamic, kindly, fast-talking, argumentative, fast-thinking, John Barrymore as "Counselor-at-Law" will give you a great bit of entertainment at the Capitol next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. His secretary is Bebe Daniels, his wife is Doris Kenyon, and add to this Onslow Stevens, Melvyn Douglas and many others and you will see assembled a great cast in a great story. Hailed as one of the greatest plays of the stage it continues to aid to its greatness on the screen.

The companion picture, "Son of a Sailor" featuring Joe E. Brown brings the wide-mouthed comic to the screen as a gob of Baron Munchausen proclaims, whose line of chatter, particularly in the feminine direction, lands him in more trouble than he can comfortably handle. He comes out of it in the long run, but in the meantime hands the audience a great number of laughs. He is assisted by Frank McHugh, Jean Muir, Johnny Mack Brown and others.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMA GROUP READY FOR PLAY THIS EVENING

The Arlington High School Dramatic club will present Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" its greatest undertaking at 8 o'clock this evening in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

The dress rehearsal took place yesterday afternoon and met with success. Many neighboring high school dramatic clubs attended and commented highly on the ability of the actors.

Scenery has been made by the students and proves to be artistic in every way. The simplicity of scenery makes it possible to allow only two minutes between scenes. There will be an intermission of four minutes between the acts.

As Shylock, the Jewish money-lender who in the end loses all his worldly goods, Emory Battis, will give a remarkable presentation.

Portia, the rich woman who saves her husband's friend from destruction, is played by Lorraine Miller who will prove to the audience that Portia is one of Shakespeare's most prominent women.

Other outstanding members of the cast are Richard Fowler as Bassanio, the man who wins Portia, David Yates as Antonio, Bassanio's friend; Russell Curry as Lorenzo, the disrupter of Shylock's household, and Marjorie Harrington as Jessica, Shylock's daughter.

Hardy P-T-A To Meet Tuesday

The next regular meeting of the Hardy School Parent-Teacher Association will be held next Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the school hall. The guest speaker will be Mr. Harry Gardner, whose subject will be "Education—For What?"

The teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30-8 p. m. to confer with the parents. Inasmuch as the reports have just gone out to the parents of the children who have failed in their studies, it would be a fine time to take up the students' problems with the teachers during this period.

A musical program has been arranged. Refreshments will be served. Mothers of the Fourth Grade acting as hostesses.

Welfare Council Again Appeals For Mittens and Gloves

All conservations to day seem to begin and end with the weather. It is hard enough to work outside when one is dressed for the zero temperatures but still worse when a man has no gloves or mittens and probably results in frozen fingers. The Welfare Council is appealing for men's gloves and mittens of any kind. These articles are very badly needed and we hope for a speedy response. Owing to the fact that one of the projects of the C. W. A. is renovation of the Old Town Hall, the Council office, being in that building, has been completely remodeled and the fresh clean office is greatly enjoyed by Mrs. Perry and her co-workers.

The contest closes March 24th and all papers must be in before then. Mrs. Shaw is to visit each troop next week and explain the project to the girls; there will also be a talk on the subject some day during vacation for all girls who enter the contest.

On Feb. 7 and 8 and 14 and 15, Mrs. Harriet Goode from the Mass. Audubon Society, will give illustrated lectures in all of the Arlington schools on "Our Winter Birds." This is part of the Conservation Program of the Arlington Woman's Club, under the Educational Department.

Explains Why Wyman Was Not At Testimonial

At a testimonial recently tendered to Lieutenant Charles E. Carroll of our local police department, at the Hotel Lenox, the absence of Arthur P. Wyman, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen was noted. In order that there be no misunderstanding among the friends of Lieut. Carroll, I take this opportunity as Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements that it was the desire of the committee to have Mr. Wyman present as a guest but unfortunately the invitation extended to him to be present was miscarried and never reached him.

This letter is published in order to prevent any injustice being done to Mr. Wyman and to explain his absence the evening in question. A. Gordon Wier, Chairman of the committee 15 Alfred Road.

Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend the piano classes in the public schools during the week of Feb. 12. Classes will be held in each school according to regular schedule.

ARMENIAN RIOT

tionary activities have never been aimed against society but have been aimed against the Turk and against all the enemies of the Armenian people.

Our aim is the eventual and complete independence of Armenia. This party was born some forty years ago in Turkey, and in 1918 succeeded in creating an independent Armenia. Therefore the Soviet Armenia of today owes its existence to the untiring efforts of the so-called Dashnag Party.

Knowing full well our affiliations the members of the Arlington Armenian Citizens' Club elected us as president and secretary, respectively, of the club. There are many law abiding citizens residing in Arlington who are members of this society.

Some of them have been the victims of a very un-American black list and boycott, perpetrated by the organizers of the protest meeting in the Town Hall. These protesters have become judge, jury, prosecutor and executioner which is also against all American principles.

We deeply regret the assassination of Archbishop Tourian and have all confidence, as law abiding citizens, that the legally constituted authorities will bring the criminals to justice. We do not believe in taking justice into our own hands.

These protest meetings, while run by local people, are, evidently, ordered from a central body in New York. This body seems to be under Bolshevik influence, judging from its tactics.

Funds are being raised at these meetings to prosecute the eight suspects held by the New York authorities. The sovereign state of New York has apprehended and indicted eight men for this murder and it would seem that the state of New York would not need any assistance financial or otherwise in carrying on its case.

We respectfully ask the readers of this paper to withhold their judgment until the facts have become fully known and the case ended through the legal process of the law.

Very truly yours,

No Need of Police

To the Editor of the News:
According to the news item printed in the "Balkar," of Feb. 6, (an Armenian Daily) the papers reporting the affair misinformed the public as to exact disturbance occurring at the Robinson Town Hall, Feb. 4, at Arlington.

This paper claims there was no need of police officers, there was nothing for which to call the officers and furthermore, that said

IN TOMORROW'S NEWS

If you're interested in the Armenian controversy over the Dashnag party you will be interested in the special article, entitled, "What is the Dashnag Party?" which will appear in tomorrow's Daily News. officers did not come upon the scene in riot squads, and added there was no disturbance.

The Arlington police who were present cannot deny that:

1. There was a disturbance.
2. Officers were badly needed.
3. Had these officers not arrived on the scene as promptly as they did, Steve Terjelian, who was their innocent victim would have been still further, beaten, bruised, kicked and insulted amid cries of "Down with him!" "Hit him!" "Kill him!"

The "Balkar" regrets very much that the other papers have been misinformed.

To the editor of the "Balkar":

I have only this to say—Truth will go further than evading the Mr. Terjelian, their innocent victim, is not a Dashnag, and more, he never has been a Dashnag.

These accusers cannot hide behind a hollow casting its shadow. It is I, who regret very much, that our sacred Town Hall was open to a group of people who have caused nothing but trouble wherever their meetings have been held.

I emphasize—that it was fear that prompted the disturbance among the group and not a blow rendered by Mr. Terjelian as charged by this group.

It is these same accusers who are guilty of disturbing the peace, insulting and assaulting a citizen of our Town of Arlington.

der, that those who are charged with first degree murder in New York, all Dashnag fanatics, since a hard working man trying to raise his family in an atmosphere of harmony.

The "Balkar" is sowing more seeds of discord among a people whose aim is to live highly and honestly.

We must clarify this situation once and for all.

Theresa Terjelian,
94 Webster St.

The Other Side

The Editor of the News:

The purpose of the mass meeting last Sunday at the New Town Hall of Arlington was to protest against the dastardly murder of the Armenian Prelate, the Archbishop Leon Tourian, who was assassinated in New York City on Dec. 24, in the Holy Cross Armenian Church, as he was going to the altar in a religious procession.

Eight persons, all of them belonging to an Armenian terrorist organization, have been arrested and indicted for first degree murder, and are being held for trial.

This murder, which has no parallel in history, has aroused widespread popular indignation in every Armenian community, both in this country and all abroad, and the popular opinion points to the Dashnag society as the organizers and perpetrators of the crime.

The reasons for this popular conviction are, first, that the late Archbishop, for six months previous to his assassination, has been subjected to a relentless persecution by the Dashnag paper "Harmenik," published in Boston, the language of which was both violent and full of threats of personal injury to the Archbishop.

Secondly, that all those charged with the crime are Dashnag members.

Thirdly, there had already been an attack on the Archbishop on Aug. 13, 1933, in Westboro, Mass., and the three young men who were held guilty for this attack were all Dashnag members.

Fourth, no Dashnag paper or official body has so far denounced this dastardly murder without reservation. On the contrary, they have blamed the victim himself, and his supporters for what happened. One Dashnag paper, "Harmenik," published in Paris, which also is the organ of the Central Committee of the organization, declared as follows, in issue of Jan. 9, 1934:

"If the Dashnag movement, (meaning the Dashnag society) or any Dashnag has suggested this murder, under such horrible circumstances, and without any excuse, they also should be condemned."

Are we to infer from the above that the Dashnag editors would justify murder if excuses exist in their own minds? And is it a wonder their minds are being poisoned by editors and leaders who believe in the philosophy of the underworld?

Protest meetings have been held in practically every Armenian community, and all Armenian organizations, including the churches, the benevolent and charitable societies have taken part in it. The indignation is spontaneous and overwhelming.

The people demand, that our community be purged of this small and lawless element, that believes in settling controversies by bullets and daggers. We are glad that, in this popular indignation, we enjoyed the sympathy and the cooperation of respected American citizens, such as the honorable selectmen of the town of Arlington.

The accusation of the Dashnags is that the late Prelate insulted the tricolor. This is false. The martyred Archbishop wanted to keep the church out of politics and protect it from the influence of the Dashnag society, that wanted to use the church as a moral weapon against the present Armenian government. In this policy, the Archbishop was following the orders of his superior, the head of the Armenian church whose seat is in the present Soviet Armenia.

Both the church convention that met in New York last fall and His Holiness, the Catholicos of all the Armenians, approved of the Archbishop and expressed their confidence in him.

The only dissenters among the Armenians, were the Dashnags and their adherents, who even now are trying through press and pulpit to blacken the memory of the dead churchman.

The Dashnag society was organized originally for a patriotic purpose. But, after their expulsion from Armenia, they have continuously plotted against the existing government, contrary to the wishes of the great majority of the people and to the detriment of the interests of the country.

At the present time, they have degenerated to the level of gangsters, working in an underhanded way and fomenting trouble and dissension everywhere.

They are no more a legal political party; their central committee in Europe went into hiding last summer reducing them into a secret society. Their activities in Syria, Greece, France and the United States during the last 12 months, have resulted in at least four murders, one in Beirut last October, one in Athens last May, one in Grenoble, France, last summer, and the murder of the beloved Armenian Prelate in New York on Dec. 24, 1933.

For every one of these murders, the Armenian public opinion has blamed the Dashnags, and every one of the victims have been known to oppose the designs of the Dashnag leaders. Furthermore, all Dashnag organizations in various countries have tried to defend those accused of murder, and the Dashnag papers have endeavored to blacken the character and reputation of the victim, as they are doing now in the case of the late Archbishop Tourian.

Those who gathered in the Arlington Town Hall on Sunday, were the church loving and peaceful members of the Armenian communities of the adjoining cities, and they wanted to express their protest against the crime freely and without interference. This they did, after the disturbers were ejected. The audience also contributed a substantial sum of money to the fund which the Archbishop Tourian Committee of New York, will use, not only to help punish the murderers, but to apprehend and hand over to justice the organizers of the crime.

PRECINCT CAPTAINS
NAMED IN VOTE DRIVE

Freezing temperature, bad walking and a snow storm failed to dampen the ardor of over two hundred workers of the Civic Campaign Committee who met at the "Ye Lantern" last Sunday afternoon.

The astounding enthusiasm of the group coupled with the actual, tangible work completed during the previous week attested to the marvelous organization and intelligence of this campaign group.

The most vital accomplishment of the meeting was the election of precinct captains and co-captains. The precincts are being organized under their direction this week.

DAVIS STRESSES NEED OF STRICT ECONOMY

The Arlington Citizens' Committee held an enthusiastic meeting at its headquarters at 671 Mass. Ave. last Tuesday evening. Further campaign plans were discussed and all arrangements were made to carry the fight until election day.

The guest speaker of the evening was Fletcher Taft, editor of the Lexington Minute. Mr. Taft, Representative Nelson B. Crosby and Hollis M. Gott spoke briefly on governmental and town problems, and expressed confidence in the work of the Citizens' Committee. Mr. Gott also told that in the past two years the total reduction in the funded debt of all the cities and towns of Massachusetts was $600,000, and of that Arlington's funded debt was reduced $200,000.

Many of the Citizens' Committee candidates spoke briefly and Ernest Davis, candidate for Selectman, closed the speaking with some details of the work of the Finance Committee. He assured the gathering that a continuation of low tax bills is absolutely dependent on economy in government, and that in the coming election the voters would do well to keep this fact in mind.

February 8, 1934
To the Editor:
A letter in your edition of February second expresses the desire for enlightenment on the background and purpose of the Arlington Citizens' Committee.

First, I would like to dispel a thought commonly held; that this organization is one of many small groups endeavoring to control town affairs. Such is not the case. The sole purpose of the Arlington Citizens' Committee is the promotion of good, clean, economical and efficient government. The Committee is made up of several hundred citizens from all parts of the town, many of them becoming acquainted for the first time as they are brought together by the mutual desire to procure this result. All citizens may become members.

The organization of the Arlington Citizens' Committee is simple; a chairman, a board of twenty-eight directors representing all precincts in the town and the usual officers and committees. All officers are elected by the full membership which, in turn, settles all matters of importance by a majority vote.

To the selection of candidates, much time and discussion is given, often for several months, and final endorsement is by majority vote of the entire membership.

The full slate endorsed by the Arlington Citizens' Committee this year is composed of men and women who are, in the estimation of the Committee, fully qualified by character and training for the various offices for which they are candidates. They have pledged themselves to honest and faithful service to the town.

The meetings are usually held twice a month and in addition to the discussion of the campaign work, are frequently addressed by an outside speaker.

The Arlington Citizens' Committee is the only group in town that has functioned continuously

DR. ANDREWS OPENS
DISCUSSION GROUP

A very satisfactory number attended the introductory discussion of a series of Discussion Group meetings to be held at the close of the morning service each Sunday in February in the Parish House of the First Universalist Church. These discussions, sponsored by the Universalist Men's Club, are to deal with international, national, state and local topics and will be presented by authoritative leaders. It is planned to have the leader of the discussion give a preliminary talk of twenty minutes and to devote the rest of the hour to a question period.

Mr. Fielder, president of the Men's Club, spoke briefly about the purpose and plans for the meeting, and then introduced Dr. Arthur L. Andrews, one-time Professor of Diplomacy at the University of Prague, as the first speaker of the series.

Dr. Andrews gave his topic as "International Affairs," but owing to the short time allowed to cover the subject, said he would limit his remarks to a question which had been asked him many times—What is the likelihood of war in the world today? He stated that war is an economic question and that any war in the world today would concern us, but because of the movements to stop war, the chance of future wars had been much lessened.

Dr. Andrews then took up the possibility of war as viewed in a brief survey of the globe. He found little or no sign of war in North America, Mexico, Central America or in South America in general. He touched upon the difficulties between Paraguay and Bolivia and the efforts of the League of Nations, diplomats and Great Powers to end the bloodshed. Next he passed to Europe and stated that the Europe of today is nearer normalcy than it has been for five centuries, stressing the fact that more people are living under the governments they want to live under and that the normal state of Europe is peace, not war. He mentioned the peaceful relations of the Czechs and Germans living together in Czechoslovakia, how Hitler had been compelled to modify his aggressive policy as shown by the ten-year Non-Aggression Pact between Poland and Germany, and present attitude of England, France and Italy on the question of disarmament.

Approaching the Far East, Dr. Andrews said that it is curious how many experts agree that the most likely theatre for war is Manchuria and Eastern Siberia and that a war between Russia and Japan is probable. However, before drawing any conclusions, he would like to be correctly informed on three points: the strength of the military party's grip on Japan, the financial strength of Japan, and the strength of the Chinese government at Nanking. Moreover, it seemed to him that in spite of the apparent failure of the League of Nations in handling the Manchurian situation, public opinion has been aroused and when mobilized can exert a very powerful influence.

The question period which followed centered on a comparison of Hitler and Mussolini and Hitler's treatment of the Jews.

Looking Inside

The Civic Committee did not exist as such last year but did exist two years ago. At that time the Committee had something over $200 and it got caught in one of the banks that stayed closed. Since then over a hundred dollars of these funds have come out—hence the Civic Committee has come to life.

One of the influential members of the Civic Committee told me that the open forum method of nominating candidates would probably not be done next year.

P. S. We have two Deputy Chiefs in the fire department.

We run our Fire Department in accordance with Chapter 48 of the General Laws and in section 42 of that Chapter it says "... He (the Chief) ... shall appoint a deputy chief and such other officers and firemen as he may think necessary." Notice it says "a" deputy chief, not two.

P. S. S. We have two jobs in town, the Tree Warden and the Gypsy Moth Superintendent. The former is elective and the latter is appointed by the Selectmen. Each job is really only half a job and each carries only half a real job's pay. For years both jobs were filled by the same man but for the last two or three years the elected Tree Warden and the appointed Superintendent have not been the same. As a solution to the half job idea why not alter our by-laws to have the Tree Warden appointed too.

The Selectmen may put an article in the Town Warrant to charge our by-laws or if 10 per cent of the voters sign a petition it would go on the ballot without having to change the by-laws and vote would read as follows: "Shall the Town vote to have the Selectmen appoint the Tree Warden?" "Yes." "No."

P. S. S. S. Do you have any trouble with reception of one radio station, Dial 99. Have found four people who say reception is poor, fading, muffled and an echo, they live on Chestnut, Scituate, Gloucester sts and Highland ave. Write to the News and I will take your letter to the station.

P. S. S. S. S. A writer suggests that the two political committees issue a statement as to their aims, condition of membership and officers. Good idea.

GIVES REASONS FOR FAVORING TAX IN COMMITTEE REPORT

Explaining his stand in voting for a sales tax, Representative Hollis M. Gott of this town yesterday issued a lengthy statement on why the Commonwealth should have such a tax. Representative Gott is a member of the legislative committee on taxation which considered the two per cent tax on retail sales, the tax to be paid by the consumer. He said that many people were misinformed on this tax as a result of editorial comment made by one of the Boston newspapers. Mr. Gott's statement follows:

"The Massachusetts Legislature is again considering the necessity and advisability of a 2 per cent tax on retail sales, the tax to be paid by the consumer. This question cannot be considered lightly, and we should not adopt the sales tax if it is just another tax, imposed upon distraught individuals, so that governments, state and municipal, may have the wherewithal to continue to spend. If there is a very real and actual necessity for additional revenue to support government, then it must be decided who shall pay, and how the money shall be raised.

"In 1933 there was a reduction in expenditures for government in Massachusetts. The appropriations by cities and towns in 1932 were $276,867,537, and in 1933 the appropriations were $231,727,781. It must be admitted that a large part of that $45,000,000 reduction was due to the postponement, or elimination of capital outlay. In all fairness to our local governments it must be said that economy has been practiced, at least in our towns.

Federal Money Helped
"All forms of revenue from corporations, income taxes, and all other sources were lessened in 1933. Real estate was relieved, fortunately, by virtue of a great deal of Federal money being expended, and some appropriations were cared for by borrowed money, and because the government returned to the State a certain amount for public welfare. Although Federal money helped the tax on real estate in 1933 we cannot lose sight of the fact that we must sometime pay the bill because government has no money except that money which comes from the people. Government cannot borrow money and not pay it back, and we cannot receive financial aid from government unless we pay the bill. Government is the people. Of three billions of dollars that the Federal government has authorized to be spent on a recovery program, the State of Massachusetts must pay about 6 per cent or $180,000,000. If the Federal government spends ten billions, as some predict, our share of that bill will be $600,000,000.

"In 1932 real estate in Massachusetts was assessed $210,754,735 and in 1933 real estate was assessed $190,683,188. That shrinkage will not help, of course unless our appropriations are also reduced. If our appropriations remain the same it makes no difference whether we have a high valuation and a low tax, or a low valuation and a high tax. Can we raise $190,000,000 by real estate taxes in 1934? It seems quite clear that the Federal government is getting the end of the amount of money which it can freely distribute either in direct contribution or in work projects. We cannot close our eyes to the fact that when the work projects of the Federal government, such as the CWA, cease, the public welfare rolls are likely to be increased substantially, and there is evidence that public welfare and relief work generally, will be the vital problem for 1934. This, in any event is certain, that in 1933 real estate was relieved by at least two things that cannot recur in 1934. These two things are the following:—1. By passing a law in 1933 permitting the taxation of domestic dividends, there was provision that cities and towns could borrow in anticipation of that revenue the state expected to receive in 1934, 1935, and 1936, the money to be used to reduce the tax against real estate in 1933. Under that chapter (which is numbered 307) cities and towns, at least 63 of them, did borrow $12,217,053. These towns cannot possibly have that revenue in 1934 because they have taken anticipated revenue for the next three years, and used it all in a single year, 1933. It is estimated that the revenue to the State from this new source will be about $8,000,000 per year or $24,000,000 for the three year period and each city and town will receive its proportionate share. 2. There was also a provision permitting cities and towns to borrow on tax titles which had accumulated, and 42 cities and towns borrowed on tax titles to the extent of $6,418,000. Adding this amount to the relief afforded under Chapter 307, i. e. the $12,217,053 mentioned above, it means that $18,000,000 is definitely out of the picture as not being available to the cities and towns to reduce their 1934 tax on real estate. Therefore, unless the cities and towns can reduce their expenditures at least $18,000,000 in 1934, then $18,000,000 will have to be raised by a direct tax on real estate.

"The Governor proposed that $10,000,000 of the gasoline tax be used this year to help out the State tax. In 1933 that was done. However, if the gasoline tax is not thus used in 1934 the cities and towns must make up that amount. There is, therefore, the possibility of real estate having this $10,000,000 also added, and it will fall on real estate unless it is diverted from the Highway Fund.

Unwise to Boost Income Tax
"It is probably unwise to further increase the tax on incomes, because incomes are small and any larger tax would result in driving this revenue source out of the Commonwealth, to a substantial extent. That is the opinion of the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation. It should be borne in mind that only 5-12 per cent of our population pay income taxes.

"It is also feared that increased rates on corporations, commercial and savings banks, and insurance companies would do more harm than good. If they cannot prosper our unemployment problem would be aggravated, and the security of those institutions would be weakened.

"It is well to bear in mind, also, that insurance companies, savings banks, and cooperative banks are largely invested in real estate, and that whatever affects real estate affects those institutions, and whatever affects those institutions affects those who are depositors or borrowers from them. Every dollar that is deposited in our savings banks is represented by a nearly 60 cents loan on real estate. In other words, the aggregate deposits in the savings banks in Massachusetts are $2,024,735,376.

843, and of that amount $1,193,422,146 is invested in mortgage loans. There seems to be a disposition to let real estate continue to carry the load. Possibly real estate can outlive the storm but there must be in the mind of everyone the idea that there is more than real estate tied up in the problem; that through loans, deposits, insurance contracts, etc., our financial institutions are most decidedly to be thought of when we crowd real estate owners too hard, and burden real estate with taxes beyond its strength to carry. It is a fact that real estate taxes are being paid out of the savings of small home owners. In thousands of cases the owners are not paying their taxes out of their present earnings, but out of their capital. When taxes cannot be paid, foreclosure usually results and during 1933 in this State our Savings banks foreclosed on property valued at over $68,000,000. Much of that property was again sold but the amount of foreclosed property now in the possession of our Savings banks, and the savings departments of Trust companies, is about $71,000,000.

Facing Shortage
"Increases in respect to uncollected taxes as of January 1st, 1934 make clear that it is still difficult, and growing increasingly difficult for the real estate owner to pay his taxes. We are facing a shortage, because, while we have definitely assessed real estate, all of it is not being paid. If money comes in, our cities and towns can continue to give service. If cash cannot be collected and it is necessary to sell the real estate, then we say borrow, but we cannot continue to live, or to receive the public services we have been enjoying, on expected future income.

"It is interesting to know that, throughout the State, only about 18 per cent of our people are paying real estate taxes. And this 18 per cent of our population pays 85 per cent of the total appropriations of our cities and towns. In towns like Arlington, Winchester and Belmont, which are distinctly towns of homes, and there is very little business property except stores, a very much larger percentage of our population is in the class of home owners, and the problem of real estate taxes more seriously concerns those people, than it concerns the residents of the large cities where the bulk of the population live in apartment houses. It is often argued that a person paying rent pays taxes indirectly, but at present so many families have doubled up, and there are so many cases of even three families living in one rent, that there are now more living quarters than persons seeking them. This has resulted in owners taking whatever rent they can get, and the average has been below a fair return, and in many cases not equal to interest and taxes.

Hard On Real Estate
"The relief of real estate has been so long delayed that it will take several years of real prosperity to get back into real estate the values that have been lost. Building, on a large scale at least, cannot start until after real estate can be relieved, and stands out as an investment of the soundest kind.

"Massachusetts needs, if it continues its present costs of government, some $20,000,000. The new source now up for defense is the retail sales tax. If the Legislature does not want that, then all should know that in turning it down, real estate will stand approximately $20,000,000

With The Kiwanians

Our speaker this week was Mr. John Trefarri, Superintendent of Good Will Industries of the Morgan Memorial who gave a most interesting talk on things pertaining to his work. The club paid tribute to our President, Allan Cowie by dedicating a song in his honor. (The Little Prairie Flower.) A new Co-operative bank account was started this week for the new born of Franklin Wyman it being the usual custom. We understand that this son of Franklins is to be named "Steeve."

We understand from Allan Kimball that the passengers in his car the night of the inter-club meeting at Newton started a bonfire to keep themselves warm. We expect that he will submit a bill to the club for damage done! (Who started the ice-house fire?)

The following streets have been set aside by the Board of Selectmen for coasting: Crescent Hill ave, Washington st. Eastern ave, Florence ave and Churchill ave.

Heights Study Club To Meet

The next meeting of the Arlington Heights Study Club will be held in Hambury Hall on Feb. 13 at two-thirty. Mrs. E. M. White will have as her subject "Italian Renaissance—Bramante, Brunelleschi and the Dome, Michelangelo and St. Peter's." Mrs. Cyrus E. Dallin will speak on "French Renaissance—The Chateau, Pierre LeScol, The Louvre, Philibert de l'Orme, The Tuilleries" illustrated by stereotyped slides. The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. J. Herbert Mead and Mrs. D. Fleisher Knight.
